What is Travel (A&H) Insurance?

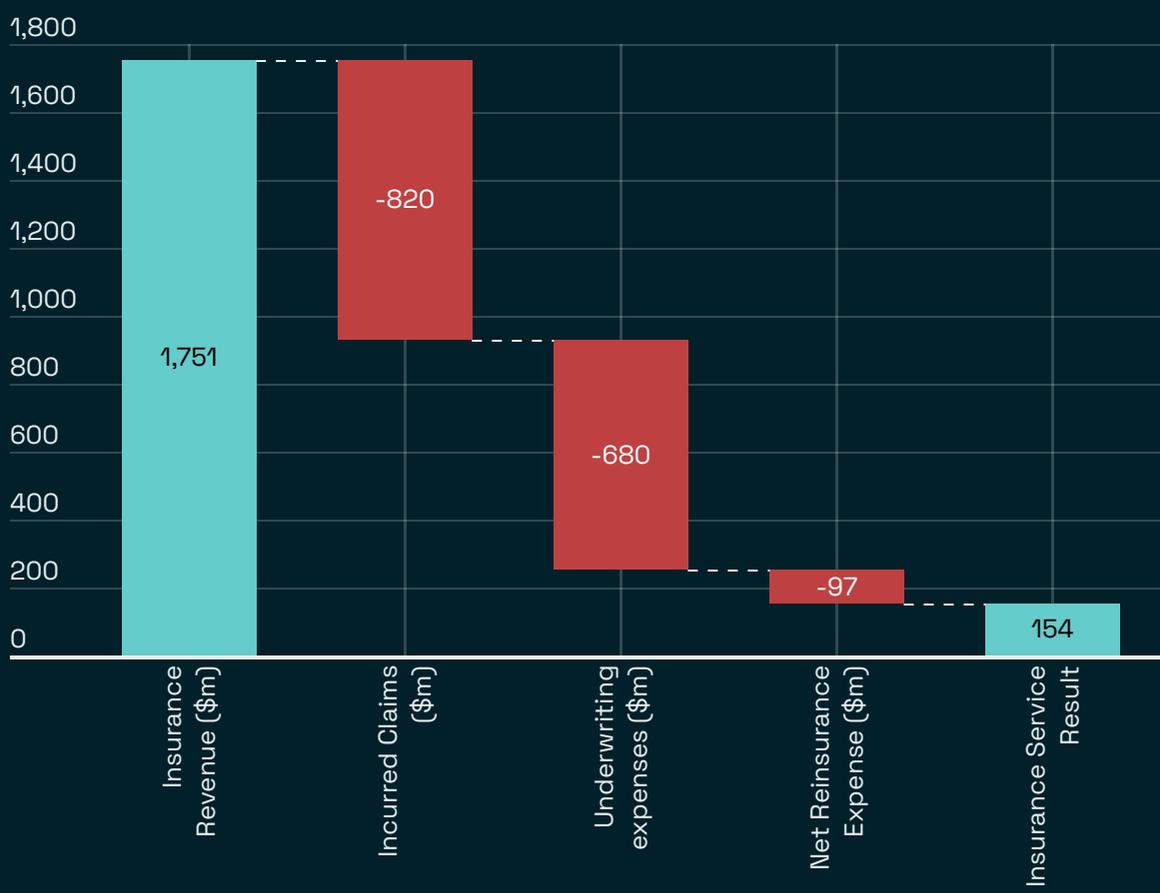

Travel insurance, also known as Accident and Health (A&H) insurance, offers financial protection against unexpected events during a trip, such as medical emergencies, trip cancellations, lost or damaged luggage, and personal liability. It typically covers overseas medical expenses, trip curtailment, accidental death or disability, and legal liability, with added benefits like 24/7 assistance, coverage for adventure activities, and even pet boarding if delays occur. This insurance is essential for safeguarding travelers from potentially high costs, providing peace of mind, and offering convenience—especially for business travelers who face unique risks while on the move.
